What are cookies?

Cookies are small text files that store information. We, or other parties, place these text files on your computer or mobile device. For example, in your next visit, we are able to read your preferences or login details in the text file. This means that you do not have to indicate your preferences again and we can make the website more user-friendly. Under the heading "Cookies Overview" you will see which cookies we place and what they are used for.

Overview cookies:

Functional necessary cookies

We place functional cookies to make our website work well. No permission is required for placing these cookies. This concerns cookies that make sure abuse can be detected, data is remembered for the ordering process, information is remembered when you go to another subpage, it is remembered if you have given permission to post cookies, logins are stored, preferences are saved, the load of the website is distributed, the shopping cart is working and the website is displayed properly.

Analytical cookies

We continuously improve our website by analyzing how you use our website, how you found us and where there are any bottlenecks. We place cookies for this and cookies are placed by Crazy Egg, Criteo, Google Analytics, Hotjar and Piwik.

Ad cookies

To ensure you do not see the same ad every time, offers match your interests, we know how many visitors click on an ad and how many people eventually make a purchase cookies are placed by Facebook, Google Ads, Instagram, LinkedIn, Microsoft Advertising, Pinterest and Twitter.

Social media, YouTube and Google Maps cookies

To share content from our website on social media, AddThis, Facebook, Instagram, LinkedIn, Pinterest and Twitter will place cookies. For watching videos, cookies are placed by YouTube. To show maps, cookies are placed by Google Maps.

We do not store cookies longer than required by law and not longer than is strictly necessary for carrying out the purposes.

If other parties place cookies, their privacy statement applies. This may change in the meantime. The current privacy statement can be found on the website of the party concerned:
